Description : "Dahi Handi (also known as Gopal Kala or Utlotsavam) is an entertaining and competitive event in India, associated with the Hindu festival of Krishna Janmashtami, which celebrates the birth of Lord Krishna. The event typically occurs on the day before Krishna Janmashtami in August or September. For this event, a pot made of clay filled with yogurt, butter, or other dairy products is hung at a high location. Young men and boys, and nowadays also teams of girls, form human pyramids to reach or break this pot. During this, people surround them, singing, playing music, and cheering. This event was enthusiastically carried out by the students of Vidnyan Mahavidyalaya, Malkapur on September 7, 2023. The college principal, teachers, non-teaching staff, and students were present at the occasion."
